The Film Synopsis

MONROE COUNTY: BEFORE AND AFTER C-19

PRODUCED BY JAYTILYA M. WATKINS & RICHARD A. ARMSTRONG

“Monroe County: Before and After C-19” is a documentary about five people who live in the small town of Monroe County that is further transformed because of Covid-19. While they reflect on their past, they are constantly reminded in the present day how their lives will never be the same after the effects of the pandemic in their small Alabama town.

Praise for Monroe County: Before and after C19

5/5

“Jaytilya is amazing! The way she captures the entire Monroe County experience from beginning to end is realistic and educational. All of her interview subjects were very intriguing, and this documentary leaves the viewer to think about the state of our society after Covid-19, which is still to be determined.”

BRANDON H.

5/5

“I don’t typically watch documentaries, but Jaytilya did a great job in making me as a viewer become interested in the subject matter, and managed to capture the feel of the pandemic. I really learned a lot about the history of Monroeville from watching this film.”

CASSANDRA L.

Praise for Monroe County: Before and after C19

5/5

“Thank you so much for telling the story of those in Monroe county who have survived the pandemic. This is an important topic that many people are not addressing nor learning from. I am grateful to see a film covering the stories of everyday people in a small town in Alabama as they overcome their struggles.”

ROBERT G.

5/5

“A raw and real look at how Covid 19 affected 5 people in a small town in Southern Alabama. Jobs were lost, and lives were lost. Now, they have to pick up the pieces and begin again. This is a story that needed to be told.”
